In collaboration with Eugene public schools, the Department of German and Scandinavian is excited to offer a German-teaching internship program for dedicated undergraduate majors or minors in German who enjoy working with children and possess a high proficiency in the language. GER 409 students employ new and fun-driven teaching approaches in settings from Pre-School through sixth grade levels, and will act as ambassadors for GERSCAN working towards our mission of promoting global citizenship across all curriculums.

The program will run through both Winter and Spring terms of 2021. In order to prepare for the assignment, students will receive preparatory training during the Winter Term, followed by 4-5 weeks of teaching during Spring Term, and around the sixth week students will present a report about their teaching experiences. Over two terms, students are expected to earn 4 total credits.

All interested applicants should submit a brief resume, and a 1-page statement of interest, and two references. Priority application deadline is due to Matthias Vogel by Friday, November 13th, 2020.

This course counts towards Gerscan Major programs as a language course and/or SLAT certificate. For more information, contact Matthias Vogel at: matvogel@uoregon.edu

See our GER 409 video on Youtube! gerscan.uoregon.edu/GER409